It is time for the government to get out of the free enterprise systems way! Microsoft has made life easier for everyone. I could have any program that I chose. Noone has forced me to use Microsoft Products. I use them becasue they work and are economical. What s wrong with that? Since when did making money become against the law? They give more to charity than the U.S. Government. Give me a break and do something worth while. We have become a nation of wannabes rather than a nation of doers. The justice system needs to mind it s own business and it has plenty to mind! What if Microsoft said enough. You can have it and we quit and take our ball to the house. Would software still be as economical and work? I think not!
